Defeating the

ENEMIES

Within

Allen Webster

Christians have enemies without—the devil, ungodly government, persecutors—but the enemies most likely to keep us out of heaven are within. Flip Wilson was famous for saying, “The devil made me do it.” Although the devil does tempt, he cannot make anyone sin. Have you heard it said of someone, “He is his own worst enemy”? That is true of most of us. The three great enemies to a godly life are lust of the flesh, lust of the eyes, and the pride of life (1 John 2:15–17). Since Christ will save us from our sins, but not in our sins, we must defeat these enemies.

THE LUST OF THE FLESH

Christians must deny ungodliness and worldly lusts and then live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world (Titus 2:12). Humans are composed of a soul in a body. We are rational creatures capable of determining our own actions. Consequently, the abilities, inclinations, and appetites of both soul and body must be considered. As it is ridiculous that a beast should ride a man, so the physical man should not have dominion over the rational and spiritual man.

The word translated as lust in 1 John 2:16 is a neutral word. It is used of good desires in three New Testament passages: Luke 22:15–16; Philippians 1:23; 1 Thessalonians 2:17. Most of the time it is used of sinful desires.

The lust of the flesh is an evil desire for sinful physical pleasures.

- “If you live according to the flesh, you will die; but if by the Spirit put to death the deeds of the body, you will live” (Romans 8:13).
- “Make no provision for the flesh, to fulfil its lusts” (Romans 13:14).
- “Walk in the Spirit, and you shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh” (Galatians 5:16).
- “When they speak great swelling words of emptiness, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through lewdness” (2 Peter 2:18).

There are two levels of sinful pleasures—those strictly forbidden and those wrong only in excess, such as overindulgence in food, drink, and entertainment. Lusts of the flesh come from three primary desires:

- Food (reveling, banqueting, gluttony) (Galatians 5:21; 1 Peter 4:3; Deuteronomy 21:20). The lust of the flesh was what both Eve and Jesus faced (Genesis 3:6; Matthew 4:2–3). Some have made their belly their god (Philippians 3:19; cf. 1 Samuel 2:11–16). “The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play” (1 Corinthians 10:7).
- Drink (drunkenness, excess of wine) (Ephesians 5:18; 1 Peter 4:3). Solomon wrote, “Wine is a mocker, strong drink is a brawler, and whoever is led astray by it is not wise . . . Who has woe? Who has sorrow? Who has contentions? Who has complaints? Who has wounds without cause? Who has redness of eyes? Those who linger long at the wine, those who go in search mixed wine. Do not look on the wine when it is red, when it sparkles in the cup, when it swirls around smoothly; at the last it bites like a serpent, and stings like an adder. Your eyes shall see strange things, and your heart will utter perverse things” (Proverbs 20:1; 23:29–33). Richard Blummer wrote of Satan’s lies about alcohol: “We drink for joy and become miserable. We drink for sociability and become argumentative. We drink for sophistication and become obnoxious. We drink to help us sleep and wake exhausted. We drink for exhilaration and end up depressed. We drink to gain confidence and become afraid. We drink to make conversation flow and become incoherent. We drink to diminish problems and see them multiply.” Drugs also fit into this category (e.g., marijuana, cocaine) (cf. Romans 6:13).
- Sex (adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lewdness, lusts, covetousness, evil desire) (Galatians 5:20–21; Colossians 3:5). The marital bed is honorable (Hebrews 13:4; Matthew 19:9; 1 Corinthians 7:1–5), but other sexual activity is not. Adultery describes all illicit sexual relations between one or more married individuals. Fornication is a broad term describing any illicit sexual conduct, including pre-marital sex, and all deviant sexual activity, including homosexuality and bestiality. Works of the flesh keep people from heaven (Galatians 5:19–21). They must be “put to death” (Colossians 3:5).

These are the darkest days America has known. Christians live in a modern-day Sodom with constant tormenting of their souls (Genesis 19; 2 Peter 2:7–8). Children and teens are bombarded with the flesh—drugs, alcohol, sexual perversion, and greed.

To avoid the lusts of the flesh, Christians must understand how sin works and set a strict guard to watch for temptations. James wrote, “Each one is tempted when he is drawn away by his own desires and enticed. Then, when desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full grown, brings forth death” (James 1:14–15). The chaste Joseph is a good example of resisting lust. He repulsed Potiphar’s wife’s solicitations (Genesis 39:1–23). Eyes and ears are doors through which sin and death can enter. Polycarp used to stop his ears at the wicked speeches of heretics. We must keep our bodies in subjection (1 Corinthians 9:27).

THE LUST OF THE EYES

This is the desire to want to own something because it is beautiful.

Sight is the largest inlet to sin. Because the mind is influenced by external objects, the eyes must be regulated as far as possible. These vanities are so alluring to the corruption in our hearts, that without constant watching and prayer, we cannot escape the world or obtain victory over the god and prince of it. Job made a covenant with his eyes (Job 31:1).

- The sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were beautiful and took them (Genesis 6:2).
- “When Shechem the son of Hamor the Hivite, prince of the country, saw her, he took her and lay with her, and violated her” (Genesis 34:2).
- Potiphar’s wife saw Joseph was good looking and wanted to sin with him (Genesis 39:7).
- Achan saw a Babylonian garment, silver, and gold and took them (Joshua 7:21).
- “Do not look on the wine” (Proverbs 23:31).

“Do not lust after her beauty in your heart, nor let her allure you with her eyelids” (Proverbs 6:25; cf. 2 Samuel 11:2; Matthew 5:28). Some have “eyes full of adultery” (2 Peter 2:14). The Greek historian Xenophon says Cyrus, the King of Persia, would not even look at the fair Panthea, the wife of King Abradatas. She was taken in battle and reserved for him by one of his captains. When one told Cyrus that her beauty was worth seeing, he answered that therefore it was more necessary to abstain from seeing it.

THE PRIDE OF LIFE

This includes desire for honor, preference, applause, and revenge (even physical violence, murder). To be proud of one’s beauty, strength, intelligence, wealth, success, accomplishments, possessions, business, ambition, or property is to be guilty of the pride of life. One can even be proud of unusual things—poverty, social causes, healthy eating, or driving an old car. It includes desiring to

- Get credit for things that others (or God) did.
- Make a name for ourselves (Genesis 11:4). Though we are to value a good name, we are not to desire our own glory.
- Feel more valued than others, as Herold did (Acts 5:1–12).
- Have positions of power over others to feed our ego. Socrates mentioned that Ammonius Perota cut off one of his ears to avoid being chosen as a bishop.
- Do things for the sake of bragging rights.

Those who desire to be great should be the greatest servants (Matthew 23:11). King Saul is one of many Bible characters who allowed pride to destroy him (1 Samuel 15:1–23).

In the parable of the Pharisee and the publican (Luke 18:9–14), the Pharisee thought he was better than others. He should have thought of Solomon’s words, “The fear of the Lord is to hate evil; pride and arrogance and the evil way and the perverse mouth I hate” (Proverbs 8:13). “When pride comes, then comes shame” (11:2); “By pride comes nothing but strife” (13:10); “Pride goes before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall” (16:18).

Pride leads to other sins such as hatred, variance, contentions, wrath, selfish ambitions, dissensions, and heresies (Galatians 5:20–21). Pride keeps Christians from acknowledging sin or repenting of sin, especially when the sin is public (James 5:14–16). Irrational pride keeps some from saying to another, “I am sorry. I have sinned.”

Matthew Henry wrote: “The things of the world quickly fade and die away; desire itself will ere long fail and cease, but holy affection is not like the lust that passes away. The love of God shall never fail.”

Christians Are Members in Christ's Body

In Jesus, disciples have peace and can be of good cheer (John 16:33). God's blessings have often been restricted to specific locations:

The tree of life was in the Garden of Eden. When Adam and Eve were driven from there, they had no access to its blessings (Genesis 3:24).

God placed salvation from the flood in the ark. All who were not in it perished (Genesis 6–9).

When the firstborn of every family in Egypt faced the plague of death, God provided safety in houses where the Passover lamb's blood was on doorposts (Exodus 12).

Rahab was saved in Jericho as long as she remained in her house (Joshua 2).

Paul told those in a storm on his prison ship: “Unless these men stay in the ship, you cannot be saved” (Acts 27:31).

Peace, spiritual prosperity, and safety are where God placed them—in the church (Ephesians 1:3; 3:21; Psalm 122:7). Being in Christ is synonymous with being a member of His church (Galatians 3:26–27; Ephesians 1:22–23; 4:4). Some of the blessings found in Christ (a phrase Paul used 169 times) include the following:

- Redemption (Romans 3:24; Colossians 1:14)
- Peace (Romans 5:1)
- Joy (Romans 5:11)
- Grace (Romans 5:17)
- Abundant life (Romans 6:11)
- Eternal life (Romans 6:23; Ephesians 1:3–13; 1 John 5:11)
- Newness of life (2 Corinthians 5:7)
- Forgiveness (Ephesians 1:7)
- Salvation (2 Timothy 2:10; Acts 4:12; John 14:6)

Since all spiritual blessings are in Christ (Ephesians 1:3; 3:21), and none are outside, to receive them, we must be in Christ. How does one get into Christ? Only three Scriptures answer that question, and they all say the same thing—one is baptized into Christ (Galatians 3:27; Romans 6:3; 1 Corinthians 12:13). One is brought to Christ by hearing the gospel (Romans 10:13–14), believing it (Hebrews 11:6), repenting of sins (Acts 17:30; Luke 13:3), and confessing Christ (Matthew 10:32–33; Romans 10:10). Then one is brought into Christ by baptism.

“Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places in Christ.”

EPHESIANS 1:3

Make Someone's Day

Recently, we were in the dining area of a hotel when an elderly gentleman came into the room. He was by himself. He was obviously struggling with his walker. There were several in the dining area eating as we were. One lady noticed him and left her food and table and went to the man. She asked if she could go through the line with him and fix his plate. His gratitude showed.

After the plate was filled she placed him at a table, fixed his coffee, and offered to cut anything that he needed cut. He was so grateful. You could tell that she had made his day.

Stop and consider what she did. It probably took her about five minutes and it didn't cost her anything, but she made his day. She reminded me of the good Samaritan. —Harry Goff

Hard?

A college student asked his preacher, “Do you think there is life on other planets?” He said, “No, I don't think so.” He said, “You mean, all those billions, and billions, and billions of planets out there—don't you think there's life out there?” He said, “No, I really don't think so.” He said, “Then, why did God go to all that trouble to make all that stuff?” The preacher said, “What trouble?”

Thoughts to Ponder

If Walmart is lowering prices every day, how come nothing is free yet?

We could learn a lot from crayons: some are sharp, some are pretty, some are dull, some have weird names, and all are different colors. But they all live in the same box.

If not for stress, some days I'd have no energy at all.

Everyone has a photographic memory. Some just don't have film.

I know God won't give me more than I can handle. I just wish He didn't trust me so much.

If you can't be kind, at least be vague.

If the shoe fits, buy it in every color.

A Child's View

A father was at the beach with his children when the four-year-old son ran up to him, grabbed his hand, and led him to the shore where a seagull lay dead in the sand. "Daddy, what happened to him?" the son asked. "He died and went to heaven," the Dad replied. The boy thought for a moment and then said, "Did God throw him back down?"

"A time to laugh."

ECCLESIASTES 3:4

Wrong Is Always Wrong

In a time of sagging morals, Satan provides rationalizations for improper behavior. Christians must not be "ignorant of his devices" (2 Corinthians 2:11). Wrong is wrong despite efforts to excuse actions.

Wrong is wrong, even if you do not get caught. From little things like littering the highways and breaking the speed limits to more serious offenses such as adultery and stealing, our society seems to think the only wrong is getting caught. It just isn't so. "The eyes of the Lord are in every place, keeping watch on the evil and the good" (Proverbs 15:3).

Wrong is wrong, even if you do it for a good cause. An honorable purpose does not justify a dishonorable deed. Many who would never gamble on a card game will buy a raffle ticket or play bingo if the proceeds go to a good cause. Stealing is stealing even if it is done by a mother who does it to feed children who have been abandoned by their father.

Wrong is wrong, even if others do worse things. It will be little comfort at the judgment, if you should be lost, that others you knew did things considered worse than your sin.

Wrong is wrong, even if it does not bother your conscience. Consciences can be trained to accept wrongdoing, but sin is a transgression of God's law (1 John 3:4), and whoever transgressed God's law sins, even if his conscience approves (cf. Acts 23:1).

Wrong is wrong, even if it is commonly considered acceptable. "You shall not show partiality to a poor man in his dispute." (Exodus 23:2). A Christian is told "do not enter the path of the wicked, and do not walk in the way of evil. Avoid it, do not travel on it; turn away from it and pass on" (Proverbs 4:14–15). "Test all things; hold fast what is good. Abstain from every form of evil." (1 Thessalonians 5:21–22). —Author Unknown

The First Three Truths of an Educated Mind

There is a God. Something is (the universe), therefore something always was, because from nothing comes nothing. If nothing is what always existed, then nothing got busy and created something! But what rational person can believe that? Further, what had always existed was either mind or matter. There are no other possibilities. If it was matter that had always existed then in time matter either created or evolved into mind (intelligence). Who can believe that?

The reality is that a Supreme Being of intelligence is what/Who has always existed, and “In the beginning God [the Supreme Being of intelligence] created the heavens and the earth” (Genesis 1:1). “The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament shows His handiwork” (Psalms 19:1). “Every house is built by someone, but He who built all things is God” (Hebrews 3:4). Only a fool can deny the existence of God (Psalm 14:1). The atheist needs to use the mind God gave him and overcome his foolish rejection of God!

Jesus Christ is the Son of God. Christ existed with God from all eternity as the pre-embodied Word. In time, He “became flesh and dwelt among us” (John 14:1–3, 14). He was miraculously conceived by the Holy Spirit in the womb of the virgin Mary (Matthew 1:18–23; Luke 1:26–35). By this means “God sent forth His Son, born of a woman” (Galatians 4:4). Jesus allowed Himself to be acknowledged as God’s Son (Matthew 3:17; Matthew 16:16; Matthew 17:5), something a good and honest man would never do if it were not true!

The Bible is the Word of God. “For this reason we also thank God without ceasing, because when you received the word of God which you heard from us, you welcomed it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which also effectively works in you who believe” (1 Thessalonians 2:13). “These things we also speak, not in words which man’s wisdom teaches but which the Holy Spirit teaches, comparing spiritual things with spiritual” (1 Corinthians 2:13). Indeed, “All Scripture is given by inspiration of God” (2 Timothy 3:16–17).

Judgment Day Excuses That Won't Work

Jesus will come again (John 14:3). On the same day, He will judge all men. That day is called both “the last day” (John 12:48) and “the day of judgment” (2 Peter 3:7).

What excuses might be given that day? “But, Lord, I thought. . . .” This sounds like Naaman when he was told to dip in the Jordan to be rid of leprosy (2 Kings 5:11). He thought he knew how things ought to happen, but God thought differently. On judgment day it might be, “But I thought that all a person had to do to be saved was believe in Jesus as God’s Son.” The Bible says, “Thus also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead. . . . Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness. . . . You see then that a man is justified by works, and not by faith only” (James 2:17–24. Jesus will judge us by the Bible (John 12:48). “But, Lord, I was always told. . . .” In the religious realm, all kinds of faulty messages are given. Only God’s word is truth (John 17:17). Some might say, “I was told that one church is as good as another.” God’s Word teaches that there is only one body or church (Ephesians 4:4), and that Jesus promised to build one church (Matthew 16:18). He purchased and saves only one church with His blood (Acts 20:28; Ephesians 5:23, 25).

“But, Lord, my pastor always said . . .” It is amazing how many people hang their soul’s destiny on what a preacher has to say. The only Pastor whom we should accept as final authority is “our Lord Jesus . . . that great Shepherd of the sheep” (Hebrews 13:20). He alone has all authority (Matthew 28:18–20). At the judgment, some may plead, “But my pastor said that it doesn’t matter how you worship, just as long as you worship the Lord. The Master said, “God is Spirit, and those who worship Him must worship in spirit and truth” (John 4:24). Think about it.

The Obituary of Jesus

Jesus Christ, 33, of Nazareth died Friday on Mount Calvary, also known as Golgotha, a Place of the Skull.

Betrayed by the apostle Judas into the hands of His Jewish enemies, Jesus was crucified by the Romans, by order of Governor Pontius Pilate. The cause of death was crucifixion, a method of severe torture that resulted in death from a combination of loss of blood, exposure, and asphyxia.

Jesus Christ, a descendant of Abraham, was a member of the house of David. He was the Son of the late Joseph, a carpenter of Nazareth, and Mary, His devoted mother. Jesus was born in a stable in the city of Bethlehem Judea. He is survived by His mother Mary, His brothers and sisters (Mark 6:3), His faithful apostles, numerous local disciples, and many followers elsewhere.

Jesus was self-educated and spent much of His adult life working as a teacher. Up until the time of His death Jesus was sharing good news, challenging religious hypocrisy, touching the lonely, feeding the hungry, and helping the poor.

Jesus was most noted for telling parables about His Father's kingdom and performing miracles such as feeding 5,000 people with five loaves of bread and two fish and stilling a raging storm. It is also commonly reported that He became a sought after medical professional who healed many patients, including healing a man who was born blind.

On the day before His death, He held a last supper celebrating the Passover Feast, at which He foretold His death.

The body was quickly buried in a stone grave, which was donated by Joseph of Arimathea, a loyal friend of the family. A stone was rolled in front of the tomb, and, by order of Pontius Pilate, Roman soldiers were put on guard.

FIVE MILES DEEP

Years ago, a man was so given to praising the Lord aloud that one of the officers of the church took him home with him to speak to him about it.

All the way home the man praised the Lord for this and that that he saw. When he got to the house, the leader took into a room and gave him a geography book to read while he prepared lunch. (As he said to himself, "Now I suppose you won't get anything to praise God for from that.")

The host had not left him alone long before he heard him again saying, "Praise the Lord!" Amazed, he went to him and asked him what the matter was.

The old saint said that he had just read where the sea was five miles deep and he remembered that the Lord had said, "I will cast your sins into the bottom of the sea," and that he liked to think that his sins were so far away from him.
